I grew up in the Soviet Union and didn't know autism existed until I came to the US. Autism is caused by vaccines. The more you vax, the more destroyed children you will have.

As a child, when we received no vaccines, I’d never met anyone with autism and children didn’t suffer from ear infections either. We caught all the usual childhood illnesses and it has made us stronger people now.

The other day, the 12 year-old son of a friend came home from school (this is in Switzerland) with a consent form to be signed for several vaccines including tetanus, HPV and I don’t remember the others.

As he has never been vaccinated he knows well that whatever happens when he’s at school, anything that comes out a needle is bad. In fact the homoeopathic doctor he had when he was a baby, put in his records that he is allergic to vaccines and must never be given one. Untrue, but it should frighten off anyone planning to jab him.
